DRAFT Panel Ideas for Schoodic Scenic Byway installation at Gordon's Wharf • Steve Perrin, 3-15-2012

Background Image—Aerial mosaic made by James Sewall Co. for Maine Department of Marine Resources, 2008

Clockwise from upper left
Quarry workers c. 1890, SHS
Shims and wedges for splitting granite, sp
Burning stone in 2010, sp
Sullivan Granite Co. quarry, 2010, sp
Scooner at wharf loading granite, SHS
Schooner at wharf w. horse-drawn carts, SHS
Schooner at wharf loading cobbles, SHS
Quarry with derricks, SHS
Stone House, Sullivan, SHS
Sullivan quarry today, sp
Tug pulling schooner into Taunton Bay, SHS
Hopewell Quarry track road, today, sp
"Sullivan Tower" by sculptor Jo Kley, sp

Taunton Bay at Low Tide
The bay wraps eastward around the Sullivan pluton. At low tide, it is a mudflat with a river running through it

Background Image—Aerial mosaic made by James Sewall Co. for Maine Department of Marine Resources, 2008

Clockwise from upper left:
Blue mussels, seastars, whelks, sp
Mating horseshoe crabs, sp
Seastars, periwinkles, kelp, sp
Eelgrass, sp
Canada geese feeding on eelgrass, sp
Lobster boat with gulls, sp
American bald eagle, sp
Site where an eagle ate a duck, sp
Common goldeneyes diving for mussels, sp
Common goldeneye, sp

Center:
Juvenile semipalmated sandpipers, sp