

Of fishing and factories: A proud maritime heritage

Several sea captains sailed from Prospect Harbor in ships built in the area

Subhead here fhjla ghjkerf glijkh

Quisisl ulla adipsustrud ent la at nostin euis am, consendre doluptat. Gait wisit eu feugiam dolor sustis dolore tio eugue volor sendip er accummy nonsequ ipismodolore et, commodit eum dignit wis alis accum nulla adipit aut utat. Pis ad tie dolore dipis dolesequat dignim dolut vel in ulla commy

Canneries fhjla ghjkerf glijkhghjkjhg

Quisisl ulla adipsustrud ent la at nostin euis am, consendre doluptat. Gait wisit eu feugiam dolor sustis dolore tio eugue volor sendip er accummy nonsequ ipismodolore et, commodit eum dignit wis

Below, one of several generations of canneries. Here, before a destructive fire in 19__.

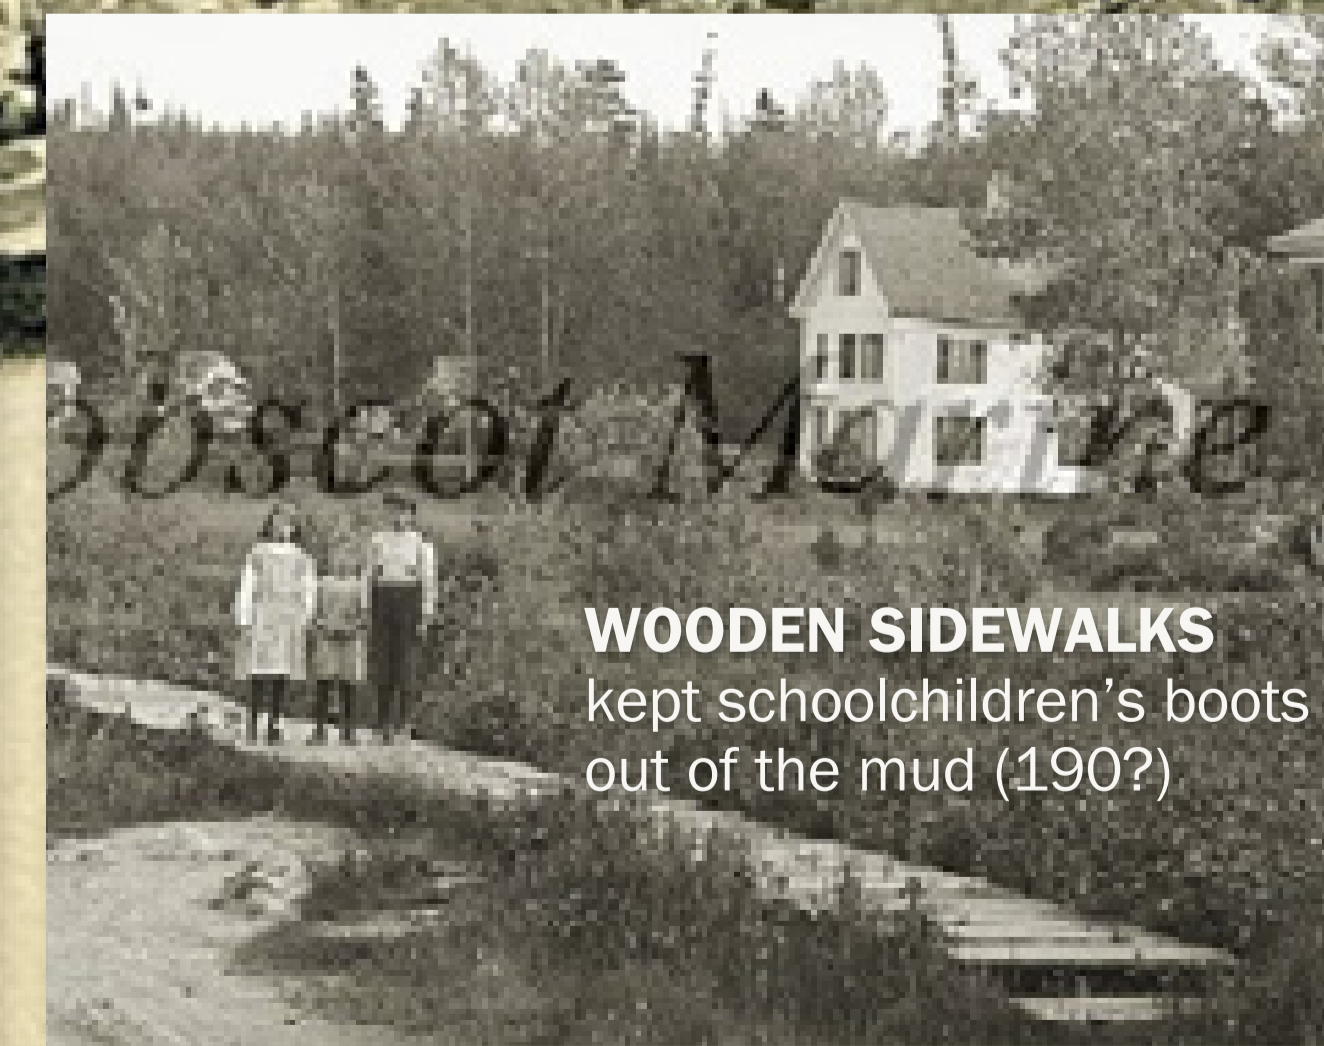

CANNING SARDINES and even lobster
Pis alis am iustrud min hendre minci tat nonsed tat, sis doluptat. Ut adigna feum

GENERATIONS LINKED TO THE SEA
From fishing to canning to lobstering, iustrud min hendre minci tat nonsed tat, sis doluptat.

Three grocers and three churches

Quisisl ulla adipsustrud ent la at nostin euis am, consendre doluptat. Gait wisit eu feugiam dolor sustis dolore tio eugue volor sendip er accummy nonsequ ipismodolore et, commodit eum dignit wis alis accum nulla adipit aut utat. Pis ad tie dolore dipis dolesequat dignim dolut vel in ulla commy

WOODEN SIDEWALKS
kept schoolchildren's boots out of the mud (190?)

PHOTOS: Thanks to UNKNOWN HISTORICAL SOCIETY. Photo restoration by

PROSPECT HARBOR SITE. Sponsored by Maine DOT

Prospect Harbor, Me.